Authority has been received for issuing arms to Heme Guards of Warasw, Benton County, one of the worst secession holes in the State. They will be accompanied by an escort. Gen. Steffing Price will probably roil up his eyes at this, but let him roil, who cares.

Gun. Harmy is still in St. Louis attending to his private affairs. The general impression is that he will be ordered away very soon. Whereverthe Government contemplates war, there will be the place for Gen. Harmey. But where they wish to prevent war and preserve peace without prejudice to the Union men of the South, some other than Gen. Harney is the man for the place.

The reported order to attach Missouri to Gen. McChellan's affiliary department, has created desatisfaction at the Arschal. It is said that Gen. McCellan's department, efe bracking Western Viaginia, Ohio, Indiana, and fillnois, has too much ground. More than he he severed.

ATTACK UPON THE BICHMAN REGIMENT.

The Second Michigan Regiment, Col. Richerdson, arrived at 4 o'clock this moraing. From Cart. Lawson, of Company G, we derive the following account of the trip through and from Baltimore:

Word had come from the United States Marchal that an attack would be made and the train halted seven miles the other side of the Macumental City, where the men loaded their muskets. The orders were to avoid as emcounter if possible, but, if unavoidable, to take no halt measures, but for each company to fight to the death, and for the pioneers to make clean which they were assatised.

to form in line of bastic, if the shot should be followed up by more. Sentinels were posted in each car.

Near the Relay House, firing was heard from one of cur picket guards. It was reported that they had been attacked and had killed four men. The truth is not known.

Capt. Lawson acids that the regiment received a hearty welcome from the women, beyond and in Baltimore; while no man, so far as he saw, greefed them. The regiment is a fine-locking hedy numbering 1,040. The uniforms are dark thue, like the last Michigan, and they are armed partially with new Minie guns, and partially with the Harper's Ferry musket of 1846. They are well supplied with clothing and camp quipage. Thirty women, who will serve as nurses and laundresses, accompany the regiment. This afternoon the regiment were received by Gen. Soult and the President at their residences.

THE REBEL POSTAL STOTEM. The Postmaster of St. Louis writes to the Department that he believes the "Confeder ate" postal system to be a "myth." He continues to receive, as usual, the letter and newspaper mails from the South, stamped and for more matter to the rebel States, and must de-mend postage on matter received thence, as if unjaid, since, if stamped, it is with stolen stamps. We publish the following, obtained from the files of the Department, for the guidance of Postmasters: "There are now no Postmasters of the Uni-ted States, in the second States, authorized to rell stamps or collect postage since the 1st of June, for this Government: Postmasters, therefore, must treat all mail matter, since the 1st of June, coming from the accorded States.

Ten more regiments will be added to Gen.

The three moutha' militia and three years' distinguished Gen McClellan's advance from the least possible delay. This is interpreted to mean an advance upon Richmond over the route between James and York drivers, at the same time that Gen. Scotts weeps down upon that piace from the camp at Alexandria. As was stated in my dispatch of Tuesday night, the conference between the State and Federal authorities in this city on Tuesday was broken my without any pacific conclusion.

Gen. Lyon on the part of the United States, was furn in his refusal to remove or disband the Federal troops, and equally firm in demanding that the State should abstain from any more under her infamous millita law.

Gov. Jackson and Gen. Price were persistent in the refusal te give any pledges, and after a four hours' fruitless seasion thay left in a special train for Jefferson City on Tuesday

To THE CRUET OF POLICE, BOWING.

Gov. Jackson and Gen. Price were persistent in the refusal to give any pledges, and after a four hours' fruitless seasion they left in a special train for J efferson City on Tuesday night.

Later intelligence to day gives a new and sherply different phase to the position of the State authorities, and intense excitement has been ensued here throughout to day from this essue. It has become known that by the orders of Gov. Jackson the railread bridges across the Osage and the Gasconade livers, respectively ten miles, and thirty-five miles this side of Jefferson City, were burned immediately after the passage of the special train, canaing breats that thus cut of all connection with the Capital. The telegraph wires have also been cut.

As may be imagined, the feeling here among a very wide circle of loyd Missonrians, is favorable to hanging Claib. Jackson to the first tree. This will give a new activity and importance to uniflitary operations here, for which the Union men, and Federal troops are thoroughly ready. This evening 600 U. 8. "Gideon Wells, the Postmaster-General, is a mative of the of the State of Cincianati, and was originally a Democrat, but of late years has fallen into the ranks of the Republicans. Van Bures made him Prostmaster at Harrfort, but in 1840 he gave up that post. In 1840 he was one of the dalegates to the Convention of Chicago, and he was also a member of the Committee appointed to monitate Lincoln in

By a trong effort the "need-op" of thi-nois have been driven from our prairies, and now, even before we have begus to recover from their ravages, our ears are saluted with a bowl from the "Wild Cats" from the Swamps of Getrgia.

In it possible that our business community will allow itself thus to be imposed upon and defrauded by a currency whose responsibility has not even the zemblance of security—not even "Secession stocks," which the late swim-

The owner of this homeless institution will furnish "promises to pay" to the country brokers at the "lowest living rates," in fact it is the cheapest article in the market. It was remarked by one of these brokers, to to whom a merchant applied for a reason for circulating such a poor currency, that bank-ers, like merchants, were in the habit of buy-ing cheap articles for the sake of the profit; this same broker, it is said, can command

The worst feature of this movement is that one of our most respectable Railroad companies is giving credit to this swindle by receiving it "at its face" for freights, and at the same time have a "Railroad list" for a currency of far higher respectability. Considering corporations, bodies destitute of souls, it is easy to see that it is for their present interest to take this currency for freights, since the owner redeems it every night.—but those who control the money operations of the "C. The "C. B. & Q.b" are in fact indorsing this currency and the people are to be losers in the end. Tais Railroad has done good service in other times in helping us rid ourselves of doubtful money and has been foremost in giving the alarm when banks have been in failing circumstances, or when unsound currency was attempted to be circulated among us, and we can hardly believe that this worthy corporation would be

The owner holds nearly every bill of its issues, which he has bought up in "chips its issues, which he has bought up in "chips and whetstones" at most generous rates—of discount!—and now seeks in this sly way to give the rotten institution a new existence and new credit, that it may be palmed off anew.

Every body tumbled over and roared at every body clee, while the officers looked on, white with excitement, and no less delighted.

The day was given up to preparation. All distatisate tion was forgotten: the gramblers who ecouplained of the "serva hours drill a gay," were thankful they were in some sort of trim to appear before Gen. Soott. Visitors from Evansyllie came with flowers and presents, the last of many such favors, for the Zonaves.

At five o'clock the drum beat for dress parace. From the hill-top the view below made a picture of living beauty such as I have never before eeen, and can never forget. White tents dotted the hillside, shaded by grand old forest trees. Beyond, the men with pictures under the souther three diving beauty such as I have never before eres and fashing arms were drawn up in battle array. The last light of day fell on the colder brown river. Ifiching upstream and resque crees and maning arms were drawn up in battle array. The last light of day fell on the golden brown river, lighting upstream and shore; over all bent the bine sky, "like the protecting hand of God above us." And listening to the trumper call, the music of the band, the shouts of command, the rattle and clarg of arms, deal indeed must be the soul that ethred not to the "pride, pomp and circumstance of glorlous war."

It was one o'clock next day before we were fairly off. Crowds followed us to the depot; salutes were fired, good-byos spoken, and amid cheers and shouts the long trains thundered on their way. Flowmen stopped to wave their interest and shouts the long trains thundered on their way. Flowmen stopped to wave their interest and shouts five were flourished, and not a few stood in drenching; arin to wave a flag to the soldiers.

At Terre Haute and Indianapolis the whole city seemed to have turned outflor alweloume. Refreshments were ready, and hundreds crowded round with biessings and tears, prayers that will follow them, and kieses they must bring bock sgain.

She is now taking on board an immense height of milliary stores and ordnance, including eight ten inch Columbiads weighing eight tens, and two seven inch filled cannon, A portion of her freight is now on board; a part of which is white pine plant to the extent of sevenity-two thousand feet.

A recw from the navy yard lies along side, laden to the water's edge with shot, shell, and mortars. The weight of metal to ordnance and projectiles alone is several hundred tens.

About fourteen hundred barrels of ar-my stores have been taken in already from lighters; how much more is to follow depends upon the Vanderbuilt's storage capacity only. He now lay ratherdown in the middle of the bed, upon his loft side, his head slightly best forward and off the pillow. His wife sat beside him, holding his right hand in both of hers, and isasing tenderly over him, sobbing. Mr. Rhodes remarked to Mrs. Douglas. "Is am afraid that he does not lie comfortably," in reply to which Mr. Douglas said, "He is—very comfortable." These were his last intelligible work. From two o'clock he was spechies, but evidently retained his consciousness. When, a few moments before his death, his wife leaned over him and sobbingly saked, "Husband, do you know me? will you kiss me?" he raised the eyes and smiled, and though too weak to speak the movements of the muscles of his month evinced that he was making an almost dying struggle to comply with her request.

that a Democrat should not be appointed.

From the Pantagraph, 11th.]

THE SERATCHENIT.—The Chicago Tribune, Bloomington Tuniagraph, Bloomington Advertiser, Pountic Sentinel, Decatur Chronicle, Belleville Admonts, Jacksonville Journal, Menard Indez, Alton Telegraph, and Macomb Journal, all Republican papers, agree in recommending the appointment of a Democrat in place of Douglas. The Chicago Journal thought it indecent to discuss the matter at the time it was first broached, and now thinks it improper to discuss it at all, preferring to leave the matter entirely in the mands of the Governor. The same logic would prevent the discussion of any appointment which was to be made by popular election. We have seen no Reguidblean paper as yet taking decided ground opainst the appointment of a Democrat, except the Poorla Transcript, though two or three equint in that-direction.

[From the Rock Island Register.]

about and proposing this and that goutleman as a suitable man for Judge Douglas' success ser. One paper urges that he should be a Republican. Now, so far as the Register is concerned and we believe we express the feeling of the prople of this section on this point, we are willing to leave the whole matter in the bands of Gov. Yakes, who will make the appointment, and who will set for the good of the country at large. The Governor will in the appointment take into the secount the necessities of the crisis—that we want no mere politician to represent Illinois in the Senate now, but require a man of unbending integrity and patriotism, who will do all in his power to sustain the hands of the General Government in this time of rebellion. If a Democrat of this stamp cannot be found, we do not know that Gov. Tates will be consured if he appoints a Republican.

Wherever Gov. Tates does appoint will only hold the position until the meeting of the next session of the Legislature, when that body will elect for the unexpired term of Judge Douglas.

If from the Green Bay (Wis.) Press.]

It seems to us that Gevernor Yates can render greater service to his country at this time, by appointing some political friend of the late Senstor to the vacancy than in any other way. The sincerity of Republican professions can be better demonstrated, the confidence of the people better retained, the cordial and hearty support of the Democratic party—now left without a great leader—to the administration, better secured by such an act, than by any other.

better secured by such an act, than by any other.

Besides, it seems unbecoming a great party, entrusted by the American people with the administration of the Government in such a crisis, to take advantage of a great calamity like this to increase their representation in a body, in which treason had already left them a majority emple for all party purposes.

We shall await the action of the distinguished Governor with much anxiety.

The Border State Conference.
[From the Philadelphia Press.]
The Conference presents to the people of the United States two distinct propositions, in the following words, as a remedy for our stional troubles and an effective measure of exification. national troubles and an effective measure of pacification:

iet. That Congress shall at once propose such constitutional amendments as will secure to slaveholders their legal rights, and allay their apprehensions in regard to possible encroachments in the future.

2d. If this should fail to bring about the results so desirable to us and so essential to the best bopes of our country, then lot a voluntary Genvention be called, composed of delegates from the people of all the Bistos, in which measures of peaseful adjustment may be deviated and adopted, and the nation rects defrom the continued horrors and calamities of each of the successful adjustment may be deviated.

The logic of the address is very weak, its pathos very effective, and its recommendations of an impracticable and immificion character. We have an inastinctive respect for any exhibition of grief, and there are many

DISLIES OF THE NORTH.

"The State of South Carolina was," I am told "founded by gentlemen." It was not setablished by witch-burning Furitans, by cruel, persecuting fanatics, who implanted in the North the standard of Torquennads, and breashed into the nostrils of their newly born colonies all the ferocity, blood thirstiness, and rable intolarance of the luquisition. It is absolutely astonishing to a stranger who aims at the preservation of a decent neutrality to mark the violence of these opinions. "It that condounded ship had sunk with those-Pligrim Fathers on board," says one, "we never should have been driven to these extremities!" "We could have got on with the fanatic if they had been either Christians or gentlemen," says another; "for in the first place they would have acted with common charity, and in the second they would have found with entry in smitted us; but there are neither Christians nor gentlemen among them!"

"Anything on earth," exclaims a third, "say from of government, any tyranny or despots my on will; but "—each here is an appeal nor terrible than the advertion of all the southest mone, poly would never have gained its great power in the world. Imagine these, and an last nite variety of "similar soutiments uttered by countly, well-educated men, who set grant store on a nice observance of the usages of society, and who are only moved to extreme bitterness and anger when they speak of the North, and you will fail to conceive the intensity of the dislike of the Bouth Carolinians for the Free States.

The contests of Cavalier and Roundhead, of Venucean and Republican, even of Orangemen and Croppy, have been elegant joustings, regulated by the finest rules of chivalry, compared with those which the North and South will carry on if their deads support their words. "Immortal hate, the study of revenge" will actuate severy blow, and never in the history of the world, perhaps, will go forth such a dreadful see sich as that which may be heard before the fight has begun. There is nothing in all the dark caves of burnan passion so cruel and deadly as the hatred the South Carolinians profees for the Yankees. The means of completing the armsment have been furnished by the stores of Norfolk navy yard, where belween seven hundred and eight hundred gups have fallen into the hands of the Confederates; and, if there are no columbiade among them, the Merrimac and and other ships, which have been raised, as we hear, with guns unbijured, will yield up their Dablgrens to turn their muzzles against their old masters.

A CHANGE IN SENTIMENT. Under date of May 2d, Mr. Russell writes:
There is a suddenness of admiration for jacitic tendencies which can with difficulty be secounted for, unless the news from the North these last few days has something to do with it. Not aword new about an instant march or Washington! No more threats to seize on Fancuil Heal! The Georgians are by no means to keen as the Carolinians on their border—nay, they are not so be ligrent foods was they so kern as the Carolinians on their border— nay, they are not so bel ligerent to-day as they were a week age. Mr. Jefferson Davi's mes-age is preised for its moderation, and for other qualities which were by no means is such favor while the Sumter lever was at its height. Men look grave and talk about the interference of Ergland and France, which "cannot allow this thing to go oo." But the clange which has come over them is unmis takesbic, and the best men begin to look grave. As for me, I must propase to open my lines of retreat—my communications are in danger.

The Case of Harvey.

The recall of Harvey from Portugal has caused a deal of speculation as to his guilt or innocence. No doubt there is satisfactory proof at headquarters on the point at issue, and if Harvey sees it to call for it, on his return, he will be accommodated. Meantime, we have a word to say as to the a priori reasoning of some of his friends.

In 1891 Harvey held a clerkship under Tyler, in the State Department, and he there had access to state secrets. In the apring of time year a series of letters appeared in the New Hord, as weekly New York paper,) dated at Washington, and revealing all manner of such Yord, as weekly New York paper,) dated at Washington, and revealing all manner of such secrets. The Administration were mach perpixed at these revelations, and made efforts to discover the traitor. Harvey, among others, was easpected, and he was at length clothesty secured of the authorship of the letters in an editorial stitled in the disrova, a daily paper then published in New York by Anson Horrick. Harvey wrote to the Astrona, indignately dupling the charge, and enclosing a letter from the proprietor of the New World which seemed to sustain Harvey's constitution of the Massington latters, and from the office of the Award obtained from the office of the Award the original letter of flarvey in contradiction of the charge. Those were found to be in the handwriting of one and the same person. They were forwarded to President Tyler, who had interested himself in the investigation, and Harvey was promptly ramoved roun his office. The Case of Harvey, should adopt the course suggested by the Governor, there could be no doubt about the regiment being made up and in camp within ten days from this time.

That our readers may fully understand the difficulty that prevents the regiment from being at once formed, we will say, that in the States to defray all the expenses of the companies from the time they are secepted by the Governor until they are mestered into the scruice of the United States. This costs an immense sum, often thirty, forty, and sometimes fifly thousand dollars. In this Territory we have no such funds for such expenses, and it is to avoid this expense that Gov. Banders is now corresponding with the Department. The Governor is anxious to have this regiment in the field, still be proposes to wait a few days in order to save this heavy expense to the Territory. Some seven or eight companies have filed their papers, and are awaiting the instructions from the War Department.

Pestructive Plood on the Red Biv The Toronto Globe has received the North-Wester of the 1st of May. The principal liem of interest was a great flood, which was cansing much damage. So great was the rising of the water that the Nor Wester says: "The general flood which is overspreading the country will necessitate a temporary suspension in the publication of the Nor Wester. If the waters continue to rise any longer, we shall be compelled to migrate with the multitude to distant ridges, and enjoy the red man's life for some weeks. Should they recode, we shall continue uninterruptedly; but there may be difficulty in the delivery, as nearly all the bridges are swept away."

2 Our Government has now afost, and in sective service, one handred and fourteen vessels of war. This naval force is sufficient, properly distributed, to close every Southern port of entiry. If about as many more staunch and fast gun boats were added, it would be enough to cut off smuggling from the smaller inlets and harbors, which may go on to some extent, so long as all our salips of war are occupied at the chief ports of entry.

The Mississippi river is in especial need of gun-boats, not only for the inland service, of siding to clear the Mississippi of all rebel transports or other craft, thus making the blockade felt within their own limits as well as on their front er, but also for the purpose of silencing their shore batteries, which have been constructed all the way from Vicksburg to Columbus, Ky.—Cis. The Dragoons had previously received their uniforms and side arms, and when in full equipment yesterday proceeded to the open prairie beyond Elizabeth street, where they went through their first field drill. Every one of the gaitant fellows locked as happy as a boy with a ban. Of this troop, as before stated, nearly two-thirds have seen cavalry service in European wars. There will be no fooling with them when their work lies before them now.

They go into camp on the prairie, seven miltor from this city, at Hastings, and by this removal from this vicinity gain a wider scope for their evolutions. This fine troop were mustered in line on Clinton street, at 5 P. M., and attracted much attention.

Stumptall is bad, but "any port in a storm."

Any money is better than counterfolt. Yet, the very disturbance of our currency opens wide facilities for the operations of counterfeit money makers and venders. A few days since, at St. Louis, one Nelson Driggs was arrested, and the best part of the capture is the science of a large number of presses, twenty-two plates and two hundred thousand dollars of the bogus stuff.
